

Inspire Activity

Interpreting This Graphic:

The display shows feedback received at the March 30th public event and through the online survey that followed during the month of April. The size of each image is proportional to the number of positive responses (green notes) received. The transparency of a red background is in proportion to the number of negative responses (pink notes) each image received.

